TWO ARMY FLYERS KILLED IN CRASH

Capt. Douglas and Lieut. Plumb Drowned in Chesapeake

OFF TANGIER ISLAND

Bombing Craft After Dropping Missile, Hits Observer's Machine Above—Both Men Were Expert Flyers.

Washington, June 23.—Two of the leading flyers of the Army Air Service, Capt. Howard C. Douglas and Lieut. Marll J. Plumb, were drowned in Chesapeake Bay yesterday after a collision of their planes in the course of a bombing raid directed at the hulk of the old battleship San Marcos, off Tangier Island.

Reports received by the War Department from Langley Field, Virginia said the accident was one of the most peculiar on record. Lieutenant Plumb, flying a fast single-seat plane, was dropping bombs, and Captain Douglas, in a similar machine, was observing the raid from above. Plumb's plane had just dropped a bomb and was climbing upward, as is the custom after releasing the weapon, when it struck Captain Douglts' machine, cutting off its tail.

Both ships fell into the bay and disappeared, together with their pilots, whose bodies had not been recovered last night, although search had been made by a number of army and navy craft ordered to the scene after the accident.

Langley Field officials reported that soon after the planes fell another of the bombing planes dropped a bomb containing 300 pounds of TNT and that it fell near where the machines went down. It was evident, it was said that the pilot of this machine, one of many participing in the attack on the San Marcos, had not seen the planes fall. The terrific explosion of this bomb, aviation officers said, probably would make more difficult the recovery of the bodies of the officers or the planes.

Captain Douglass, whose home was in Covina, Cal., was one of the best known of army flyers. He was attached to Air Service Headquarters here and went by rail ahead of the army aviators on their recent flight to Alaska to select landing fields and make all arrangements for them.

Lieutenant Plumb, whose home was in Fondulac, Wis., was recognized, officers here said, as one of the army's most expert flyers. When ordered to Langley Field to participate in the joint army and navy bombing tests he flew from San Antonio in a big Caproni machine.

Children's Playgrounds

Kiddies to Have Old Quaker Burying Ground—Open Next Month

The Alexandria playground will be opened the first week in July. These playgrounds will be under the supervision of a trained teacher who will be well qualified to hold this responsible position.

The playground committee has been very fortunate in securing the old Quaker Graveyard, on the north side Queen Street, between Washingto and Columbus streets to use as a playground. The committee it is stated is short on finances, but would like very much to be able to equip fully, at least, one playground in this city. The equipment needed would consist of see-saws, chain swings, tennis equipment, balls, gloves, etc. All donations for the play grounds should be sent to Taylor Burke, treasurer.

STATEMENT BY HOWARD SMITH

Howard W. Smith, when seen by a reporter of the Gazette today, requested publication of the following statement with respect to the article which appeared prominently in yesterday's Gazette, under the heading of "Tucker Officers Resign."

"The news article in regard to my resignation as chairman of the Tucker Club printed in yesterday's Gazette was not news but ancient history. I resigned several weeks ago as soon as opposition to me for re-election as Commonwealth's Attorney was announced. This resignation entailed no change in the original plans of the Tucker organization, as it was distinctly agreed between Mr. Tucker and myself, when he first spoke to me on the subject, that in the event I had opposition for re-election, that someone else would assume charge of the Tucker Campaign in Alexandria. It is hardly necessary to add that I shall redeem my promise to Mr. Tucker by my continued loyal support."

PROHIBITION CASES IN POLICE COURT

Three Arraigned For Alleged Violations and One Acquitted

TRUNKS CAUSE ARREST

Wm. Oehlert Turned Loose—J. S. Lucy Held For Grand Jury—Grocer With Peach Extract Also Held.

Three cases for alleged violations of the state prohibition law were called today in the police court and two persons were held for the action of the grand jury and one acquitted.

The first case called was that of William Oehlert, arrested by Policeman Lunsford, for an alleged violation of the prohibition law. His arrest was the outcome of the arrest made yesterday in connection with the seizure of two trunks from a mail truck which it was found contained thirty-five gallons of corn liquor. One of the colored men taken in custody giving the name of John Jackson when arraigned yesterday morning testified that on Friday four trunks somewhat similar to the two captured yesterday were taken from the station by Oehlert. Witness, however, did not know what the trunks contained. Attorney Charles Henry Smith, repthe state had failed o prove any case resenting Oehlert, told the court that against Oehlert and he did not put Oehlert on the stand and the court acquitted Oehlert.

A man giving the name of J. S. Lucy, living in Rosemont, was charged by Policeman Magner and Durrer with having a small copper still at his place of residence. A part of the still it was testified was in his cellar. The accused man was held for the action of the grand jury. The still has a capacity of two gallons.

Because a first ward grocer had eleven small bottles of peach extract at his place, which it was testified were in the kitchen of his home, he was also held for the grand jury. The defendant told the court he purchased the extract for his own personal use. A search of his place was made yesterday afternoon by Sergt. Campbell and policeman Magner and Durrer. Attorney Budwesky represented the accused.

A large throng of spectators appeared in court today to hear the cases.

DUVALL MAKES STATEMENT

An article in the Alexandria Gazette, which appeared in the issue of June 22nd, has been brought to my attention, and in order that there be no misunderstanding, I wish to offer an explanation.

The article to which I refer was one stating that I had resigned as Secretary of the Harry St. George Tucker Club of Alexandria City. It is true that I resigned as secretary, but my reason for so doing was that I am a candidate for office and I do not feel under the circumstances, that I should take any active part in the fight of any other candidate, whether such candidate be applying for municipal or state office.

My resignation as secretary of the Harry St. George Tucker Club does not mean that I have withdrawn my support. At the time I was elected secretary of this club, it had no occurred to me to become a candidate for the office of Civil and Police Justice of the City of Alexandria.

SIMS SHOWS UP LATE FOR 2-MINUTE QUIZZING

It took Rear Admiral William Snowden Sims just two minutes by the clock today to "explain" to Secretary of the Navy Denby his famous "jackass" speech in London, which resulted in his leave being canceled and his being temporarily ordered to return to the United States.

Admiral Sims informed the Secretary, in one of the shortest interviews on record, that he had been misquoted by the press in the reports of his speeches cabled to this country, whereupon Secretary Danby asked him to reduce his explanation to writing, and that ended the "carpet session," from a personal standpoint at least.

At the conclusion of the short session, Secretary of the Navy Denby received newspaper reporters and said:

Miss Alyse Jenkins, who has been visiting relatives in Washington arrived last night at the home of Mrs. C. M. Hobston, where she will spend a few days.

CHAUTAUQUA PLANS NOW COMPLETE

Guarantors Hear Report of Advance Representative Last Night

PROGRAM FEATURES

To Be Held July 11-17 —Junior Chautauqua to be Held in Mornings for Youngsters

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Guarantors of the Alexandria Chautauqua for this season was held last night at the Chamber of Commerce, when the final committee appointments were made. Miss Frances H. Maxwell, the advance representative of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association was presente at this meeting and explained in detail the unusual and splendid features marking this year's tenth anniversary program. The slogan of this organization has always been to make the program of each season better than that of the year before but this year special attention has been given to securing the best features that can be obained in commemoration of the Chautauqua's tenth birthday.

Among the striking and outstanding features of this unusual program are the great musical favorite "The Bohemian Girl" which will be presented on the evening of the fifth day. Drew Pearson's illustrated lecture "The New Power in Southern Europe" which will be heard on the afternoon of the third day, the Comedy-Drama "Nothing But The Truth" which keeps one laughing from the beginning to the end, and the Grand Closing entertainment given by one the celebrated Dunbar groups. "The Dunbar White Hussars." In fact every day of the six has some "high spot" which one cannot afford to miss. A season ticket admits one to each session of Chautauqua at a very moderate cost. This will be a week of the highest type of entertainment which has ever been presented to the public in Alexandria. No one should miss the opportunities which the coming of this Chautauqua to our city affords.

Junior Chautauquans from six to fourteen years are reminded of the morning meetings which are held especially for children each morning in the tent, and of the closing Junior Chautauqua Pageant "Junior Holidays" and the "Punch and Judy Show" which will follow it on the last week day afternoon.

Don't forget the lawn fete given by Martha Washington Chapter No. 32, O. E. S., tonight on the Scottish Rite Lawn, Music.

"Ghost" Breaks up Spooning When Police Fail to Act

Bostn, Jne 23.—"The ghost walked" last night at Bell Rock Cemetery, Malden, and scores of spooing couples fled. They appeared as if by magic from every secluded spot in the burial ground.

Neighbors who didn't like the carrying on in the graveyard had complained to the police, but on action had been taken. Spooning continued in the shadows of the tombstones.

Last night at the witching hour, unearthly groans, emanating from one of the graves followed by a white spectre gliding about the burial plots, caused the spooning couples to pick up their heels and skirts and flee, never stopping until they had put a safe distance between themselves and the cemetery. Not one of the swains had the courage to come to grips with the strange visitor.

Somebody, however, tipped off the police and Patrolman Shaunghnessy started ghost hunting. He caught sight of the flutterin raiments and made for them, only to have Mr. Ghost suddenly vanish in the bushes. Shaughnessy went head oveh heels as his feet caught in the meshes of a large white sheet. The sheet had two holes cut in it for eyes.

Nobody admits ownership of the sheet, but the neighbors believe spooning in the cemetery will be unpopular for a while at least. If it revives they promise to find even more effective ways of checking it, provided the police themselves don't take action.

News In The Gazette 108 Years Ago

(Speech by HENRY CLAY, then speaker of the House of Representatives at Washington, delivered on June 22, 1813, and reported exclusively for the Alexandria Gazette, by its special corrospondent at the capital, who signs himself "Clarkex." The speech occupies several columns in the Gazette.)

MR. SPEAKER CLAY'S SPEECH

"Three great distinct interests seem to exist amongst us at present. The Eastern or Navigation interest—the agricultural and southern interest; and the nondescript interest of the west. For so new is their society, that it has not yet assumed any distinct and fixed features of character. Among them, three classes form the body politic, the hunters, the herdsmen, and the tillers of the earth—Virginia being placed at the head of the Agricultural or Southern interests commands also the implicit obedience of the west, which gives to tha state a most decisive control over the nation. Let her show herself worthy of the sovereignty. Let her be prudent, and exert her power with moderation. Let her show a generous respect to that portion of the nation which subsists by commerce and navigation. The men, whose fortune enables them to govern, ought to reflect on the feeble ties which hold this vast continent together. Let the government be administered on the principles which produced its establishment. Let the real common good prevail. Let our rulers return to the disinterested course marked out by the great Washington. Let the national safety, prosperity and honor, and not the continuance of a particular party or set of men in power, be the sole object. Alas! for the last 12 years the general good has been lost sight of—Persons who doubted of the infallibility of our rulers have been denounced and treated as traitors. The lawless violence of mobs has been encouraged—Freedom of debate in the House of Representatives has been stifled, and a yet bolder stride has been taken by the dominant party during the present session. They have solemnly resolved, that a reporter employed by an obnoxious print, tho' blameless in his character and conduct, should not be admitted into their circle. Thus step by step a system of tyranny seems to develope itself. Had such men a mercenary army at their command, might they not advance to the very acme of mercenary power; might they not be tempted to fix, by the bayonet, their empire on more durable foundations than the frail base on which it now stands.—It is certain that the present course of conduct must either produce a dissolution of the union, or the establishment of despotism. And it is difficult to say which catastrophe will be worse.—

SHIP MYSTERY LINKED WITH PLOT

New York Police Say Soviet Workers Planned Sea Seizures

DATA SECURED IN 1920

Information Then Turned Over to Department of Justice—Submarine Theory Advanced

New York, June 23.—Disappearance at sea of several American ships with in the last few months was linked by the New York police last night with plans revealed to them in a series of raids on radical headquarters a year and a half ago for the seizure of these vessels at sea and their diverson to Russian Soviet ports.

The police said they were informed "through certain confidential sources" that officials of the Union of Russian Workers of the United States and Canada, and organization since broken up, had urged its members who were out of employment, especially those with a knowledge of the sea, to seek employment on American ships overpower the other members of the crew and direct the vessels to Russia.

The identity of these "confidential sources" was not revealed by the police. All the information which came into their possession, together with the enormous amount of literature and documents seized, they said, was turned over to the Department of Justice.

So far as is known these plans were never put into execution prior to the raids but police said they formed the chief subject of discussion at several secret meetings of the Russian organization.

The organization, police declared was composed largely of Russian anarchists who used the labor union movement as a camouflage Their headquarters were repeatedly raided by the police during 1919 and 1920 and numerous arrests were made. Eventually the majority of those arrested were deported to Russia, most of them aboard the United States army transport Buford.

Washington, June 23.—Naval and Coast Guard authorities would not be surprised if in time discovery is made of an itinerant submarine at large and is responsible for the raids which appear to have been made upon American and foreign shipping along the mid-Atlantic Coast.

Such facts and circumstances as have developed in the case of the schooner Carroll A. Deering lend color to such a theory. As shown in the report made by the State Department touching the fate of the Deering, she seems to have been boarded by the crew of a submarine or other vessel lying low on the surface of the sea.

Both the navy and Coast Guard are maintaining a regular patrol of the area in which such operations are supposed to be carried on. These services are keeping a sharp lookout for any raiders, whether submarine or other pirates.

Meanwhile the mystery of the lost shipping has not been cleared up. The various departments of the Federal Government are continuing their investigation, but nothing has come to light which throws any light upon the question.

Washington, June 23.—The names of four officers and 49 enlisted men aboard the lost naval tug Conestoga were made public yesterday by Secretary Denby, who said he still refused to abandon hope that the tug or her company would be found. She sailed from Mare Island March 25 for Samoa, via Pearl Haroor, and no word has been heard from her since, despite a thorough search of Pacific waters.

Miss Margaret Frances Butler, of Aurora Hills, Miss Dorothy Tazewell King, and Mr. Urban Lambert, of Alexandria, were awarded diplomas of graduation from Central High School, of Washington last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Steele, Miss Virginia Steele and Mr. F. A. Steele will leave the early part of next week for a week's stay at Capon Springs, W. Va.

Trinkle For State Manager

The administration of municipal government by means of a city manager has been adopted by about 150 cities in the United States. The city of Staunton, Virginia, is the first city in the world to adopt this new system, and may be well termed its discoverer or inventor.

The election of Senator E. Lee Trinkle as the next governor of Virginia, which we now regard as almost a certainty, will be identical in its principles with the appointment of a city manager for a municipality. We should not be surprised, and we shall claim the honor of its first announcement, if out of governor Trinkle's administration there did not spring some radical change in the administration of state affairs that would be wrought along the lines of the city-manager idea.

A state is but a city on a larger scale. Its counties and towns are the wards and precincts of the city. It has the same problems in finance, the same categories of improvements, and the same need for economy and skilled administration.

In Governor Trinkle we will have a rare combination of the qualities required in a state executive. He is a lawyer, and hence knows how laws should be framed to be alive and efficient. He is a legislator of experience, and hence understands all the devious paths of legislation, its snares and pitfalls, and how to secure it in spite of a balky minority or a recalcitrant combination of selfish interests. He is a farmer, and knows the needs of agricultural Virginia as but few of his predecessors have ever known them. He is a business man and the people will look for and get a business man's administration. What is still more to the point, he has been successful in his varied activities, and success is the best evidence of ability.

Virginia, which claims the honor of having the city that discovered city manager ship, may yet be the state that will first lead the Union in advanced paths of state managership.

We look for great things from Governor Trinkle, and he is not one accustomed to disappoint his friends.

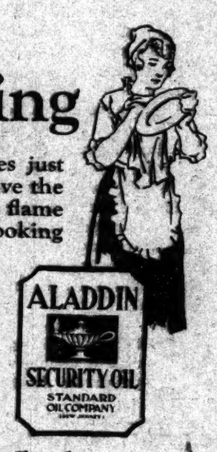
Quick, clean heat for every kind of cooking



IT is hard to appreciate the convenience and satisfaction of cooking with the New Perfection until you have actually done so.

It's a relief, especially in warm weather, to be rid of carrying coal, wood and ashes, sweeping up litter and blacking the stove. And then you don't have to "rush the fire" on baking days and heat up the kitchen. Two burners on the New Perfection will give you all the heat needed for any kind of baking. You can regulate the heat produced by each burner, warm something gently on one and roast over another in a New Perfection oven.

The long blue chimney of the New Perfection supplies just the right draught to drive the heat of the white-tipped flame forcibly against all the cooking utensils. The white-tipped flame produces the most heat and does not soot up your kettles and pans.

The New Perfection is simple, practical, economical. Supplies heat instantly, and when you are through just shut it off and save your fuel. You don't have to watch it. No adjustments to take care of. A boy or girl can fill it and clean it.

And two parties of adventurers fighting tooth and nail for its possession!
The trail skims down the Atlantic seaboard pauses at an exciting race at the Havana track, dips to a lost isle in the South Atlantic and plunges to the very floor of the ocean where men in grotesque diving suits come to death grips for the treasure.
The underwater scenes are unlike anything you have ever seen. "Wet Gold" will hold you spellbound in your seat!

Clerk and His Wife Both Took Chasco-Vin

Highly Recommend it

"You can count on both my wife and on me recommending Chasco-Vin. I was very much run-down and had been so for a long time and Mrs. Schuman was suffering from that tired and drowsy feeling which always means something is out of order. But both of us are feeling fine again and it is due to your great tonic, Chasco-Vin.

When the first bottle seemed to do us so much good we both continued until we had taken four bottles each with the result that we are both in fine health and therefore glad to pass along the good word about Chasco-Vin.

If anyone doubts the genuineness of this testimonial, just let them ask me." Henry Schuman, 752 Division St. Camden, N. J., Clerk.

The exclusive sales agency in Alexandria for Chasco-Vin is Edgar Warfield, jr., Drug Store.

Chicago, June 22.—Women lost their fight to appear on the jury lists of Cook county today when Judge Marcus Kavanaugh dismissed a petition for writ of mandamus to compel the jury commissioners to place women's names on the lists. Margaret L. Fay, attorney for the petitioners, announced that she would appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

Judge Kavanaugh quoted the Supreme Court and the Attorney General as saying that the right to vote did not necessarily imply jury service.

USED IN GAZETTE 108 YEARS AGO

How cautiously then ought Virginia and her co-actors the southern and western states to use their power, lest they compel an event so fatal to themselves! cultivate, if you be wise, ye men in power, the affections of the northern and eastern states—promote their interests, remove everything oppressive in the terms uniting them to you. Let them approach nearer to an equality in power, and if this cannot be entirely effected, use your predominance, Virginia, so that from the generosity and wisdom of your conduct, you will make them forget the unequal terms of their connection.—Let us banish from the public councils the puerile passions which too long have disgraced them and at length produced the most mischievous of wars: the very success of which must prove loss to us. But short lived must be our successes. Already fortune has changed sides on the ocean. One frigate taken and four blockaded. Uncertain too seems to be the fate of the only ally we can count upon. Fortune begins to desert Napoleon the Great. If he fall, we shall then have Britain and the world against us. Divided as we are as to the policy of this war—gloomy is the prospect before us. All that we can hope to effect under such circumstances will be the retention of our natal soil, the right to bury our bones, where those of our fathers lay. Our commerce will be extinct, our navigation annihilated, even an intercourse between the different parts of our empire destroyed—our people impoverished, and our credit gone. From this accumulation of evil, good Lord incline the hearts of our rulers to deliver us. Then blessed be the peacemakers.

(The following is an extract of a letter to the editor on the same date.)

"War Journal" Office,
Portsmouth, June 13, 1813

Arrived yesterday afternoon the British privateer schooner Liverpool Packet (late captain Bars) a prize to the privateer Thomas, Shaw, of this port. The Liverpool Packet was taken off Cape Sables after a chase of five hours. She was but four days out and had taken nothing. We are sorry to state that several of the marines of the Thomas fired into the Liverpool Packet after she had been taken possession of and killed three of their own crew, one of whom was Mr. Wm. Thomas of this town, the other two belonged to the District of Maine. Two marines mistook their own men for the enemy, (who were below), and who they thought in the act of boarding the Thomas."

June 13, 1813. Just published, by John A. Stewart, and for sale at his book store: Rokeby, a new poem, by Walter Scott.

Her Job!

Baking at home when the thermometer registers up in the nineties and the mercury threatens at any minute to jump out of the glass, isn't the most pleasant task that could be imposed upon any housewife.

Why burden HER with the disagreeable task of baking in the hot weather? Why not put this work up to experts in the baking line who can satisfy your needs in every particular and in such a way that you will always be a regular customer?

The BREAD, CAKES, FRENCH PASTRY, DOUGHNUTS, BUNS, etc., that come from MOORE'S SANITARY BAKERY are prepared with a care and foresight that is usually absent from the majority of bakeries. The same care in the selection of ingredients, the same care in timing and baking is used as if the work was being done in your own home.

And the result is wholesome and appealing to everybody.

Try us for your Sunday pastry and we feel sure that you will always be a customer.

JOY BROUGHT INTO HOME

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Restoring Mrs. Benz to Health

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We have had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. As I was going to have another, I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says, 'That is some healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show this letter."—Mrs. C. W. Benz, 131 3rd Ave., Altoona, Pa.

No woman can realize the joy and happiness this healthy babe brought into the home of Mrs. Benz, unless they have had a like experience.

Every woman who suffers from any ailments peculiar to her sex, as indicated by backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, irregularities, nervousness and "the blues" should not rest until they have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.
